Sets Record For Non-Stop Jet Flight

LeMay Flies Giant Tanker Plane On Trip to Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay landed a giant U.S. Air Force KC135 jet tanker here early today, setting a world distance record for nonstop, no-refueling jet flight.

The cigar-smoking Air Force vice chief of staff and a crew of 18 brought the military version of the Boeing 707 Jetliner down in the Argentine capital at 5:50 a.m. after a 6,350-mile flight from Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts.

The flight took 13 hours and 2 minutes. The old record of 1,448 miles for a nonstop, no-refueling jet flight was set in 1955 by a French Mistral.

LeMay flew to the Argentine capital to participate in the observance of Argentina's National Aviation Week.

He is to present a letter of greeting from President Eisenhower and a silver model of the KC135 to Provisional President Pedro Aramburu.

New communications equipment was aboard the plane, which is expected to return to Washington tomorrow or Thursday on another nonstop flight.

LeMay was at the controls when the Stratotanker took off from Westover. Only those connected with the flight were aware that it might be a record breaker.

The general arrived at Westover yesterday and went over flight plans with the crew.

LeMay will participate in Argentina's observance of National Aviation Week.

For the hard-driving general, who will be 51 Friday, the flight was one more in a series of pioneering operations.

He helped develop the Allied heavy bomber techniques of World War II, directed the Berlin airlift and spent eight years whipping the Strategic Air Command into shape as a global striking force.

Three B52 Stratofortresses under LeMay's command made the first nonstop flight around the world by jet planes last January. Their time of 45 hours 19 minutes for the 24,325 miles cut in half the previous record set by a U.S. propeller-driven B50 in 1949.

Chamber to Hold Series of Director Meetings This Week

A series of meetings of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the vice-president under which his division comes and members of the executive committee are being held this week to start the formal planning of the program of work for 1958.

A separate meeting is held for each director at which time there will be a discussion on that particular division, its work.

The directors then appoint their committee chairmen and committee members are selected after which there will be numerous meetings of the committees to work out details on what can be done by each committee, with some ideas carried over and other new ideas and suggestions planned for future progress and accomplishments of the Chamber.

Claims Extortion

Senator Charges Stranglehold On City Garbage Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) charged today that Vincent J. Squillante, reputed godson of slain gangster Albert Anastasia has seized "a stranglehold" on New York City's 50-million-dollar annual garbage hauling business.

McClellan's remarks were in a statement launching public hearings on the murder-marked movement of gangsters into the industry.

MKT Renews Plea to Stop Passengers

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Co. today renewed its plea that the state public service commission permit it to abandon its last passenger service across Missouri.

The hearing was resumed after a three-week layoff to allow both sides to study earlier evidence and to fit the requirements of the commission's heavy docket.

J. T. Stephenson of Dallas, Tex., the road's comptroller, took the stand again to testify that in September the Katy had reduced its Missouri payroll by $119,000 from last January "in an effort to survive." He said the reduction was accomplished by transferring some Missouri employees to general offices in Denison, Tex., and because of the general decline in the volume of business.

The road wants to abandon trains 5 and 6 across Missouri because they are losing about $120,000 a year. Only a few passengers ride the overnight trains between St. Louis and the Kansas state line west of Nevada, earlier testimony showed.

Today Ralph Allen, a Windsor, Mo., hatchery operator, said abandonment of the mail and express facilities provided by the passenger trains would have a substantial effect on the economy of Henry County — "the chick capital of the world."

He said the six hatcheries at Windsor would be sharply affected and so would the 415 chicken flock operators in the area who sell their eggs to the hatcheries for 12 to 20 cents a dozen above the price for consumer eggs.

Governor Blair May Request New Withholding System for State Tax

Recommendation May Go To Next Special Session

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair said today he is seriously considering asking the legislature to set up a system of collecting the state income tax by withholding it from salaries.

He said he and Milton Carpenter, state revenue director, have discussed the idea and "we think it will produce around $7 or $8 million more a year."

The present income tax is expected to produce about $40½ million this year, the highest ever recorded in Missouri. By setting up a withholding system, the governor said he thought that amount could be increased to around $47 or $48 million a year.

Before making any recommendations for a tax increase, Blair said, the state should show the people it is doing everything it can to collect the taxes already on the books.

Blair said he has not determined whether the income tax rates should be boosted. That is expected to depend on the outcome of a series of budget hearings he plans to hold soon.

Blair said he also has considered the possibility the state taxes on cigarettes, beer and whisky might have to be increased. Missouri's rates on these luxuries are the lowest in the nation, Blair said.

The governor said the chairmen of both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees, Rep. Joseph W. Martino (D) of St. Louis and John W. Noble (D) of Kennett, have been invited to sit in on the budget hearings.

That would give them advance knowledge of the budget figures and permit them to get a fast start on the work of passing appropriation bills for the 1958-59 fiscal year when the special session opens.

The special session was overshadowed at the start of Blair's administration this year when he asked and got from the legislature a special allotment to set up a budget staff of experts to put the state's budgeting procedure on a modern, businesslike basis.

Until the budget work could be completed, the governor suggested—and the legislature approved—appropriations for the current fiscal year on a one-year only basis.

Current appropriations total almost $490 million and Blair said he expected the budget for next year to be in that neighborhood, too.

It had been indicated that foreign aid plans would be high on the list of subjects for that meeting.

The NSC meeting was attended, among others, by the new attorney general, William P. Rogers, and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Carrier Searches For Plane

Hopes of Finding Traces and Locating 44 Depend on Ship

HONOLULU (AP)—Hopes of finding some trace of the Pan American airliner which vanished Friday with 44 persons aboard were pinned today on the carrier Philippine Sea—and grand sweeps by its aircraft.

"We have high hopes the Philippine Sea will turn up one of the rafts," said Capt. Donald B. MacDiarmid, Coast Guard search coordinator.

MacDiarmid made his statement last night just before taking off for the mainland to address a national search and rescue conference at Palo Alto, Calif.

"We still feel there is a good chance survivors will be found in a raft," he said. "The water is warm and the weather is good. We feel we have done a very thorough search with the equipment we have available, but we expect much better coverage will be accomplished by the Philippine Sea."

The big Essex class carrier, due in the search area today, planned a methodical sweep of a 200-mile-wide lane from the western part of the area all the way to Honolulu.

MacDiarmid has been coordinating a search by 40 planes, 7 cutters, 2 destroyers, 2 submarines and other transient vessels since the big plane vanished Friday with 36 passengers and a crew of eight.

He said the distance of the search center—1,170 miles east of here—makes it difficult for land-based planes to work effectively. The carrier has helicopters, radar-tracker planes and mobility as a landing base plus 13 S2F anti-submarine planes. These are to move from the mid-Pacific weather station November—near where the Romance of the Skies sent its last progress report Friday—in a path toward Honolulu at least 95 miles on each side of the line.

The carrier was to move at 8 knots with long-range aircraft plus several cutters and submarines searching well ahead.

As he explained the new search operation, MacDiarmid received another of several reports of an SOS message. He expressed skepticism.

"We check every one to the best of our ability but we're hearing things all the time," he said.

He said many of the sighting reports—flares, blinking lights, dye markers and so on—were turned in by pilots not used to searching. None turned out to have anything to do with the plane, he said.

The fact that not a single identifiable radio signal has been taken as indicating that something happened to it at 10,000 feet with devastating suddenness and violence.

In San Francisco, although they stressed there is "nothing to indicate there has been a crime" such as sabotage, Pan American officials said they had begun investigating for "any evidence of a crime" and checking into insurance carried by passengers.

McClellan made no mention of the investigation touching New York City officials or former officials. Harvey L. Adlai Refuses Invitation To Work on NATO Proposal

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House corrected itself today and announced Adlai E. Stevenson will consult with the administration on the program this country will lay before the NATO meeting in Paris next month.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today Adlai Stevenson has turned down an invitation to help prepare an American program to be recommended to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Stevenson has agreed, however, to "comment" on the program which this country will lay before its allies in the hope of overtaking the Russians in the guided missile and related fields.

President Eisenhower plans personally to head the American delegation at the NATO meeting in Paris next month.

Hagerty declined to elaborate on what effect the "comment" from Stevenson, who twice opposed Eisenhower for the presidency, would have on American policy. But Hagerty did say Stevenson's comment will not be forthcoming until after the American program has been prepared.

Apparently this means nothing more than that Stevenson will submit to the White House or the State Department the sort of comment he normally would be expected to issue publicly on something already done without consultation with him.

Hagerty said he knew nothing about reports that the 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential nominee might go to Paris with the President next month either as an official or unofficial adviser.

He said further details about Stevenson's role would have to come from Stevenson.

Typhoon Causes Heavy Damage

Philippines Vote for President Amid Storm; Garcia Is Favored

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines voted for a President today, with only scattered violence. President Carlos P. Garcia's candidacy seemed to be aided by a typhoon which swept over Luzon.

The storm left floods and heavy property damage as it swirled across the northern Philippine island, where more than half the nation's 7,200,000 voters live.

Some polling places were swept away, and many voters could not reach polls. As the voting ended at 6 p.m., Typhoon Kit, with winds of 100 miles an hour, was slowly moving northwestward about 170 miles north of Manila. It was expected to head over the South China Sea at midnight. Garcia's principal opponents, Jose Yulo of the Liberal party and Manuel P. Manahan of the Progressives, had counted heavily on strong support in central and northern Luzon. The typhoon appeared to have damaged their chances.

Two other candidates, Sen. Carlo M. Recto and Antonio Quirino, were virtually counted out from the start.

The election commission predicted more than a million voters would stay home because of the weather.

Garcia, who moved into the presidency last March after Ramon Magsaysay was killed in a plane crash, remained an overwhelming favorite to win a four-year term.

Garcia told newsmen he expected to win by 800,000 or a million votes and to carry with him the entire Nacionalista party ticket of House Speaker Jose B. Laurel Jr., seeking the vice presidency, and eight senatorial candidates.

The typhoon, meanwhile, passed more than 70 miles north of Manila and its maximum winds dropped to 90 miles an hour as it crossed the island toward the China Sea.

One man was reported electrocuted by a fallen wire.

Local Muscular Dystrophy Drive To Be Nov. 18

The International Firefighters Local 823 has reported a 100 per cent membership in the Pettis County Chapter, Muscular Dystrophy Association. This group has gone all out for the drive for funds which will be held Nov. 18th-29th. The representative from Local 823 is Frank Sloan.

Most of the funds will be used for research in an effort to find the cause of Muscular Dystrophy, which is a shrinking of the muscles until they are useless, and what can be done to cure it.

This year organizations of people will also march for Muscular Dystrophy in communities around Sedalia. The Green Ridge Rebekahs will march in Green Ridge; Mrs. Olen Monsees has secured a group to march in Smithton; Mrs. I. C. Evans, has a group ready to march in Dresden and the school children will march in LaMonte. Blackwater township and Prairie township have groups ready for the drive for funds and other townships will report later.

A meeting of the Pettis County Chapter, Muscular Dystrophy Association, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lon Hardin Tuesday night, Nov. 5th. Mrs. Hardin, the former Lily Thomas, is president of the chapter.

Final plans were discussed and kits prepared for distribution.

Pakistan Villagers Test Bridegroom With Insults

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never learn if he didn't open his mail, his mind or his ears:

That some Pakistani villagers have an odd way of testing a bridegroom. . . . He is hauled before relatives of the bride who insult him with every abusive term they can call him. . . . The theory: If he can survive the vocabulary of his new in-laws, he can put up with anything from his bride.

That during the next year out of 1,000 people, 320 will be sick once, 140 twice, 50 three times, 20 four or more times. . . . and 470 won't get sick at all—or if they do, they won't brag about it.

That British playwright John Osborne, explosive young author of "Look Back in Anger," has this to say about one characteristic of his native land: "The stiff upper lip is a physical deformity." But there are also times when it has been a welcome international beacon.

That Kate Smith still visits the grave of her dog, Freckles, in Hartsdale Cemetery, at least once a year. The cocker spaniel died five years ago.

That Americans brought an average of 3.15 pairs of shoes each last year. . . . But I'll bet women and children swell the average. . . . most men I know don't buy more than two pairs.

That there is a small dishwasher on the market now in which the water is agitated by sound waves. . . . whether or not the lady of the house is talking over the kitchen telephone.

That bandleader Sammy Kaye gives this definition of a talking picture: "Any picture you see with your wife."

That the quickest way to make your girl lose weight is to give her a small foreign sports car for Christmas. . . . if she can't get in it, she can't drive it.

That if you want to be sure an ink-written address won't be smeared on your Christmas packages, rub the area several times with the stump of a white candle.

That this is one legend on the origin of the phrase "Make mine Manhattan": A Florentine navigator landed on the present site of New York City, and gave the natives liquor. . . . The grateful Indians named this location "Manna-ha-ta," or "Place of Drunkenness."

That the home of the comic strip is England, not America. . . . Artist Richard Doyle, who designed the cover of Punch, started the first comic strip in 1850.

That the dragonfly is a true of the air, and never walks. . . . Its legs are used only to grab prey or serve as landing and launching gear.

That although the Russians have hurled a dog in a Sputnik 1,000 miles into space, no human being has ever penetrated even five miles into the surface of the earth itself.

That, according to Fisherman magazine, the nation's 21 million anglers spend more than 30 million dollars a year on live bait. . . . so if you want to grow a crop that sells, plant worms.

That the ostrich, contrary to popular belief, doesn't bury its head in the ground when frightened. . . . It runs for the nearest horizon.

That scientists estimate the next ice age will begin about the year 50,000 A.D.

That it was William Lyon Phelps who observed, "This is the final test of a gentleman: His respect for those who can be of no possible service to him."

US Satellite May Carry Life; No Dog

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a possibility that an American satellite may carry a living thing into space next year, but it's not likely to be a dog.

A spokesman for the U.S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year said, "Consideration is being given to conducting some basic experiments dealing with the reaction of living matter to conditions of space."

Fire on Students In Demonstration

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Security police opened fire on students demonstrating against increased school fees today, killing a 15-year old boy and injuring another youth.

The demonstration reflected mounting tension caused by Indonesia's current economic crisis.

Two girls were hospitalized after being struck by rocks thrown in the clash between police and students.

Thousands of the youths, angered by the shooting, stormed the Ministry of Education Building. Strong reinforcements by riot squads broke up the demonstration.

However "we are not at this stage considering sending up mammals," he said. He did not indicate what was under consideration.

The committee official, who asked not to be quoted by name, spoke in reply to a newsman's door open for possible further experiments to be conducted by the American earth moon beyond those already selected. Vanguard planned tasks center on picking up nonbiological information such as density of atmosphere about possible widening of the goals of the U.S. earth satellite program, Vanguard.

Dr. John P. Hagen, head of the Vanguard project, has left the phere, power of the sun's rays, flow of electrical currents and measurements of the earth.

Hagen said that whether there will be room for further test devices in the U.S. satellites depends on the success of the half-dozen launchings planned before the IGY closes at the end of 1958.

If early launchings do not pan out, then experiments planned for those firings will be carried over into succeeding launchings. But successful launchings along the way may leave some space and weight open for other tests, Hagen said. He indicated it was up to the scientific committee to decide.

The committee spokesman declined to say what experiment with a living organism was being considered, except that it would involve "simple but fundamental life processes." He would not say whether insects might be sent up.

Even if living things are not included in America's IGY satellite program, they may be shot up in further tests expected later on.

Soviet Envoy Indicates End To Boycott

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A Russian delegate indicated today his government would give serious thought to an Indian compromise plan to get East-West disarmament talks going again.

A Soviet delegate dropped this hint when asked by a reporter if he favored the Indian move to almost double the size of the Disarmament Commission. The plan aims at getting the Soviets to abandon their threat to boycott the 12-nation body and its five-nation subcommittee.

The Russian official said that, if the Indians bring their plan formally before the General Assembly when it takes up the arms question, probably this week, the Soviet delegation would give it a careful hearing. The plan would add some 10 nations to the commission.

The delegate gave the impression his government has no intention of standing by its demand that all 82 U. N. members be included in the arms talks—a proposal that already has been defeated in the Assembly's Political Committee.

Both Russia and the Western powers brushed off the Indian plan when it was first circulated last week, but there have been increasing signs they were coming around to the idea of some compromise.

Diplomats feel Russia will agree eventually to the Indian plan, or any other compromise that gives them a face-saving way to back off from their boycott threat and satisfy their demands that the disarmament machinery be expanded.

Informed sources said the Western powers will give heed to the Indian proposal, but only after the Assembly passes a 24-nation resolution calling for new subcommittee talks as soon as possible.

Fires Get Out Of Control In Rural Areas

Rural residents are warned not to burn trash or brush on their farms unless there is protection which will keep the fire from spreading over the dry meadows and fields. The Pettis County Fire Department was called three times in about an hour Monday where such fires had been started.

Luckily no property damage of any noticeable amount was reported due to the fires.

At 11:20 a.m. on the S. R. Campbell farm, 14 miles southwest of Sedalia, fire got out of control and for a time threatened the farm home and outbuildings. Fortunately a hunter passing by stopped and gave needed assistance in beating the flames back while Campbell laid out a line of garden hose.

The fire was under control by the time the fire truck made the long run and the flames were extinguished.

On the way back to the fire station the fire company received a radio call for a fire at the Lone Pine Farm of L. E. Morris, four miles east and a mile north of Sedalia. This was at noon.

Burning trash got out of control and four acres of meadow was burned off before the fire company arrived. The Smithton volunteer department also made the run and the men from both fire companies soon had the fire extinguished without any damage.

Then at 12:25 p.m. another call was received, this time to the farm of E. A. Rodewald, Route 4, Sedalia, just north of the city limits on U. S. Highway 65. Fire went out of control and threatened a barn for a short time. No damage.

Kiwanis Club Will Hear Organ Program

James Current, regional representative of the Organ Division of the Baldwin Piano Co., will entertain at noon Thursday for the Kiwanis Club. Current, who is well-known in the Midwest, built his popularity up mainly through many radio and television appearances.

A native of Urbana, Ill., he studied at the Cumings School of Music and with Kenneth Cutler of the University of Illinois, who is presently music director of Radio Station WILL. The extensive experience Current has had in the organ field well qualifies him to speak authoritatively on all phases of the subject.

He will be introduced by Bill Dugan, program chairman for the month of November.

Harry Truman Makes Stop in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry S. Truman stops over in Washington today to visit for a few hours with old friends.

The prime purpose of the former President's stop here was a luncheon in his honor at the Hotel Mayflower, arranged by people who were associated with him when he was chairman of the World II Senate War Investigating Committee. That committee provided the springboard for his ultimate succession to the presidency.

Magazine Story Changes Life For Millionaire Oilman

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON —(NEA)— For Jean Paul Getty, the 64-year-old American oilman who has holed up at the Ritz in London, life was beautiful until a few days ago.

That was before Fortune magazine named him as America's richest man, heading a list of 76 Americans with fortunes of $75,000,000 or over.

Poor rich Mr. Getty. Now his life is a plush-lined, air-conditioned hell.

Until a few days ago Getty could slip in and out of his Ritz suite and could browse unrecognized in the rare book shops along St. James Street.

But he was then a mere multi-millionaire whose fortune was as liquid as the oil upon which it was based, floating happily without fixed moorings.

All that the world knew about Getty then was that he owned a chunk of Saudi Arabia and paid King Saud some $15,000 a day for the privilege of pumping black gold from the ground.

That and his wives, for Getty has been married five times and divorced just as many.

But now, in fixing the limits of his wealth at between 700 million and a billion dollars, Fortune has made Getty a world figure.

And these things have happened to Getty in rapid succession:

He has been besieged by press photographers, art dealers, earnest supporters of worthy causes and plain con-men.

He has been swamped with over 700 letters from individuals and organizations, all begging for money.

He has contracted Asian flu and recovered from it.

His name has been linked with at least a half-dozen loves—widows, divorcees, unmarried clothes models, all of them eligible as Wife No. 6.

His suite at the Ritz, which was good enough for the late Aga Khan and the Maharaja of Indore, has now become untenable, resembling more the men's cloakroom at Victoria Station than a cozy little hide-away.

Getty hardly dares to set foot outside the door for fear of being mobbed.

And now, to cap it all, the fifth Mrs. Getty is "telling all" in the columns of Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express. ("Anything he wanted to do he did—he was Mr. Success," ballyhoos the Express.)

And in Fleet Street, where American billionaires don't bob up every day in the week, it was like the good old times. At any moment the champagne corks would start popping—or so it seemed, as the British press went trooping to the Ritz to interview Getty.

But it wasn't that way at all. Instead of a "Good Time Charlie," the British reporters found a quiet American, aged 64, whose reddish hair is hardly touched with gray. Getty has blue eyes, a long, fleshy nose, and an air of ineffable boredom.

He dresses simply (he is proud that his overcoat is 15 years old), wears no diamond stickpins, nor rings. He neither smokes nor gambles, and he can't bear the taste of champagne. ("He didn't even offer us a cup of tea," one woman reporter complained.)

Where does Getty's money come from? Mostly from oil. Getty is head of the Tidewater Oil holdings in America, owns about half of the oil fields in the neutral zone between Saudi Arabia and Kuwait, with a peak production of 50,000 barrels a day.

But Getty is not in the usual

JEAN PAUL GETTY: "Not even a cup of tea..."

"wild cat" tradition of Texas oilmen. He was born rich. His father, George Franklin Getty, was a lawyer who parlayed an initial $5,000 investment in oil into a 15 million dollar estate.

And Jean Paul Getty seems to have inherited both his father's luck and good judgment. ("I've never made a bad investment," he likes to boast.) Having dug a dry hole on his first try, young Getty had made $250,000 as an oilman by the time he was 23.

Getty's big chance came during the depression years when he bought up Pacific Western Oil, merging it with his father's interest to form the Getty Oil Company. Today this takes in about 60 subsidiaries, including Tide-water Oil and Skelly Oil.

Today, although he divides his time between Paris and Teheran, Getty owns what he calls a "feudal style home" in 65 acres of Santa Monica, California. One wing of the mansion houses a priceless collection of tapestries, furniture, sculpture and paintings; the carries photographs of his best paintings with him so that he won't miss them.)

Until a few years ago he owned a 260-foot yacht fitted out with 10 staterooms and manned by a crew of 45. "I sold it because I found myself getting into the shipping business," he explains.

"Paul is the world's most erudite millionaire," says Mark Goulden, the London publisher, who is a close friend of Getty. "He was educated at Oxford, speaks five languages, is a geologist, mineralogist, a connoisseur of painting."

Charities? If Getty admits that he gives money to charity, he will have assorted spongers around his neck.

Hobbies? Dare he confess that he collects 18th century French furniture and he will have every antique dealer in London on his doorstep. London abounds in Louis XIV chairs when an American billionaire is in town.

Why is he in London? If Getty tells the truth—to buy rare books—he will have offers of everything from the first edition of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to incunabula in priceless Grolier bindings.

Does he want to marry again? If he says "Yes," a band of eligible women, ages 18 to 80, will fight to get past the doorman at the Ritz.

(To forestall this, Getty has already described himself as a "very poor marriage prospect," adding that "five times married is enough for a lifetime.")

Wilson Says US Missiles Not Lagging

DETROIT —(Former Defense Secretary Wilson last night defended administration policies in the ballistic missile race with Soviet Russia and declared that this country was not lagging behind.

He denied the U.S.S.R. had outstripped America in technological progress and asserted Americans were unrealistic about the Soviet space satellites and their implication in the struggle between East and West.

In a speech at a testimonial dinner given in his honor he said that while Russia claims to have the know-how to produce intercontinental missiles, "our scientists and engineers are convinced that we can do the same."

Wilson, 67-year-old former president of General Motors Corp., said it was a tossup whether the United States or Russia was ahead in the missile race.

He said he believed the two countries were on a par, give or take a few months.

He said the American Strategic Air Command bomber force "is still the great deterrent to war and will be for some time."

He said peace and freedom will not be won by arms alone. This, he said, raised the difficult question of how much military strength is enough and the problem of how a stable economy is to be maintained that would capture the minds of men throughout the world by having them realize the advantages of a free society.

"While the military threat may be very real, and we must be prepared to meet it, as a nation we must also face the realities of the conflict in ideologies between the Communist East and the freedom-loving West," he said.

He said administration missile policies had "not only the approval of the people responsible but also the blessing of the scientific advisory committees who considered the importance of alternative methods to be worth the cost and effort."

While there is "some validity" to criticism of interservice rivalry, he said, the real competition is between the Defense Department as a whole and the other claimants in the federal budget.

Delayed Honesty

TULSA, Okla. — Gene Welch, manager of the Delman theater, said two boys rode up to the box office on bicycles, shoved a tightly-folded piece of paper through the opening and hurried away.

The paper contained 70 cents in pennies, nickels and dimes. On one side of the paper was a note.

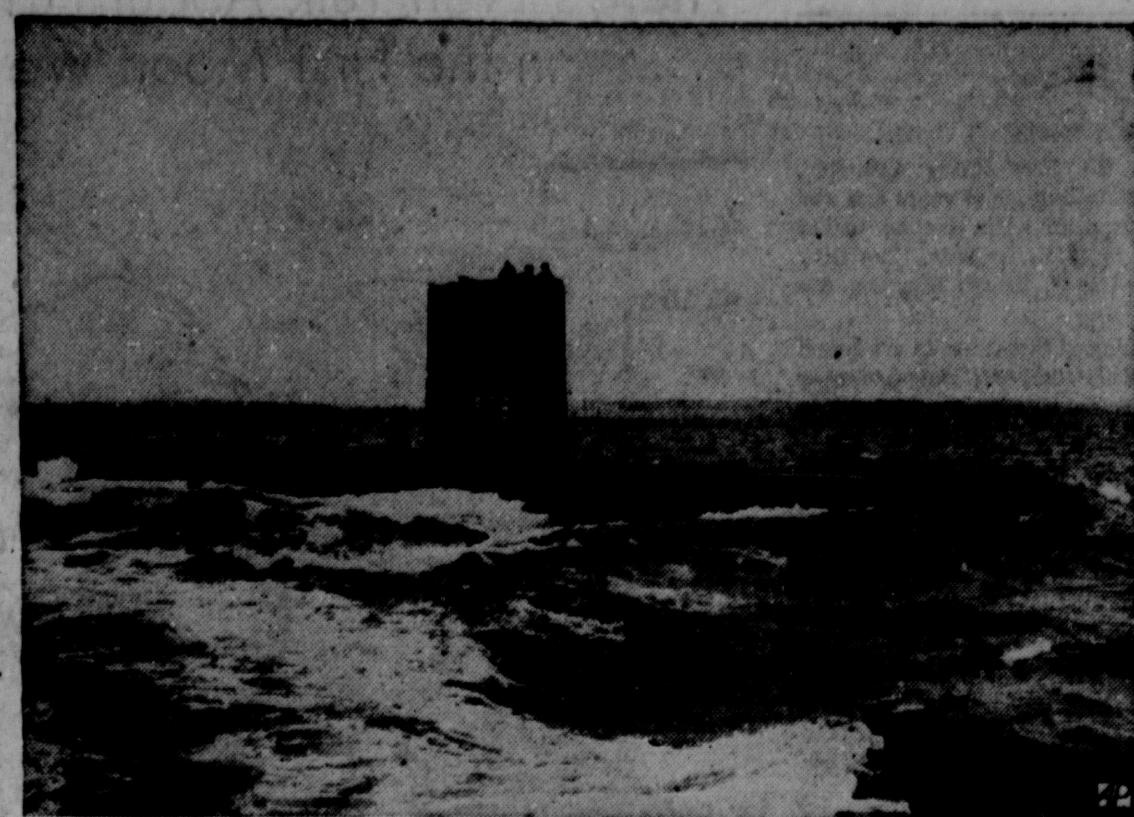

It read: "Dear Delman: My brother and I slipped into the movie a few weeks ago to see 'Frankenstein.' We are ashamed of ourselves and won't do it again. Here's the money."

The letter wasn't signed.

Mamie to Attend Birthday Lunch In Her Honor

WASHINGTON —(Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower goes today to a birthday luncheon given in her honor by Washington newswomen, whom she rarely meets newswise.

The First Lady doesn't hold news conferences and reporters get close only when she makes public appearances or poses for pictures at the White House.

They rarely get a chance these days to ask her direct questions for publication.

The White House explanation is that Mrs. Eisenhower's life is her own affair. She wasn't elected to public office.

Some White House observers think Mrs. Eisenhower is taking even less of a public role than her predecessor, Mrs. Bess Truman. One reason may be that President Eisenhower himself is not seen in public as much as was Truman.

The luncheon today is limited to members of the American Newspaper Women's Club and the Women's National Press Club to celebrate Mrs. Eisenhower's 61st birthday, which falls on Thursday.

It's strictly a social affair, with about 200 attending.

Mrs. Eisenhower will be entertained on her birthday Thursday at a luncheon given by wives of

Arrest Eight Persons In Smuggling Ring

BERLIN — The West Berlin customs today announced the arrest of eight persons they said had smuggled at least $500,000 worth of banned strategic metals into Communist East Germany.

Officials said the metals, mostly nickel and cobalt, were intended for use in East German arms factories.

The smuggling ring was uncovered Nov. 1 with the arrest of a truck driver who tried to sneak some metal into East Germany under a load of coal.

US Proposes Budget Increase for UN Assistance Program

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. —(The United States is proposing an expansion of the U.N. technical assistance program from about 30 million dollars to 100 million dollars.

Rep. Walter Judd (R-Minn.), a U.S. delegate to the current U.N. Assembly, said yesterday a U.S. proposal will be made next week to the 82-nation Economic Committee for a special U.N. project fund to aid underdeveloped nations.

About 30 million from the expanded program would be used for surveys to determine what work is possible in underdeveloped nations, to set up training institutes and to conduct research on expanding economies, Judd said.

About 14 million, or 45 per cent, of the present technical budget, is contributed by the United States. Congress has ordered this cut to 33 1-3 per cent by 1960, but Judd

Meyner's Victory--An Omen?

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

The Democratic crowing over Gov. Robert B. Meyner's 200,000-vote victory in the New Jersey governorship race isn't the hollow croaking of politicians trying to make something out of very little.

The professionals expected Meyner's triumph. Hence the mere fact of victory could not justify private rejoicing in high Democratic councils, whatever the party criers might say for public consumption.

It was the size and character of the victory, plus the unexpected swing of the New Jersey legislature's lower house to Democratic control, that flushed the winners with confidence even when no one was looking.

When Meyner won by 153,000 four years ago, it was generally regarded as something of a fluke. Scandals hurt the GOP cause badly. The Republicans won by a bare 5,000 in their Bergen County stronghold and lost two other usually Republican counties, Essex (Newark) and Union, by margins close to 15,000.

But this time, with no comparable scandal, the GOP nominee, Malcolm S. Forbes, could lift the Bergen County margin only to 14,000. An edge of 40,000 to 60,000 is rated normal. And Meyner won Essex by 35,000 and Union by nearly 20,000. He also narrowly snared another GOP bailiwick, Monmouth County.

On top of this, the New Jersey Assembly, which had been Republican for 20 years and was that by a 40-20 margin until this election, turned over and went 42 to 18 Democratic. The GOP held the Senate, 13 to 8, though dropping one seat.

The analysts looking at these results are bound to conclude that while they are no proof of a national trend, they do suggest one may be in the making.

Meyner is of course immensely popular. He successfully won the support of independents, heavily represented in Jersey, and of leading businessmen. He developed no substantial enemies and persuaded the voters he has been a good governor. No issues of consequence rose to plague him.

Not even the civil rights question, which after Little Rock might have made impact on New Jersey's 120,000 registered Negro voters, stirred virtually no turn among Negroes toward the Republicans.

Inevitably the outcome boosts Meyner as a Democratic presidential prospect in 1960.

But when all discount is made for the governor's obviously very substantial popularity, the feeling is likely to persist that this result may be a straw in the national winds.

Sputnik's Launching Was a Cover-Up

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Inside the White House—Ike's having staff troubles, as well as Sputnik troubles. Jim Hagerty, the most skilled balancer of press report and comment ever seen around the White House, is leaving. . . . This comes on top of the departure of Bernard Shanley, one of the best men around Ike, to run for the Senate from New Jersey. . . . New White House science staff member, James Killian, is the man who talked with Dr. A. D. Alexandrov in London about coming to the U.S.A. Alexandrov is probably the world's top mathematical physicist, has pioneered Russian moves to reach the moon. We could learn much more from him than he from us, but the State Department got his request for a visit lost in red tape. . . . It was Arthur Larson, new chief of psychological warfare, recently kicked upstairs from the U.S. Information Agency, who persuaded Ike to speed up his TV speech to Nov. 7. Larson figured the Soviets might launch sensational news on Nov. 7, their 40th anniversary, and that Ike should be ready to reassure the nation. The Russians, however, didn't.

Backstage With Nixon—Vice-President Nixon pleaded with Eisenhower before his satellite-missile speech to make it tougher. Nixon urged him to pull out all the stops, admit there was a national emergency, and prepare the public for a long, desperate struggle with Russia for scientific supremacy. . . . Nixon even got out of bed with the flu to study the missile emergency, asked Eisenhower to call upon the nation to sacrifice a few luxuries and mobilize its resources to catch up with Russia. . . . However, Assistant President Sherman Adams wanted Ike to reassure the nation there was no cause for alarm. Ike took the usual middle ground.

Inside the Kremlin—The American embassy reports that Khrushchev deliberately launched the super-Sputnik ahead of schedule in order to divert public attention from Marshal Zhukov. The dog-carrying Sputnik had been scheduled to be fired four days later, to commemorate the Bolshevik revolution, but Khrushchev was worried that his purge of Zhukov might reach badly. So Sputnik II was fired ahead of time. That's why the gala Moscow celebration on Nov. 7 lacked a big firecracker. . . . U.S. experts in Moscow predict Communist boss Khrushchev will follow his Kremlin shakeup with a thorough purge of both the Red army and the Soviet government. Many key posts are still held by supporters of the ousted Kremlin leaders. Khrushchev must get rid of them before he can consolidate his dictatorship. . . . Moscow is buzzing with rumors that Zhukov had plotted to overthrow Khrushchev with a military dictatorship, and it's suspected Khrushchev himself may be spreading the rumors in order to prepare the public for a wholesale purge. . . . U.S. intelligence has picked up a report that Marshal Zhukov's dismissal was precipitated by a heated argument with Khrushchev. Khrushchev had tried to assert his authority over the defense ministry,

Think It Through

—By E. F. Hutton

THE CONSTITUTION—If lost, what have we left?

Some Republicans moan because Congress didn't go along with the President's entire program. They should take a look into Constitutional law instead of claiming that legislation should be dictated by the Executive branch and rubber-stamped by the Legislative branch. This was how Hitler and Mussolini did it.

Well, if that is to be the system, why have a Congress at all? Government by executive decree is much simpler! Let's bury the Bill of Rights and concentrate all political power in the President and the Warren Supreme Court. Those who want our President to perform like a commissar of fuhrer don't understand either the Constitution or Mr. Eisenhower's views.

The purpose of the Constitution is to define the authority of the Legislative, Executive and Judicial branches of the Federal Government, and the separate functions of the Federal and State Governments. Constitutionally, the Legislative branch may not usurp powers belonging to the President, and he may not invade the Legislative rights of the Congress.

The Supreme Court may interpret the laws under the Constitution but may not take over the President's job to enforce the law, or Congress' job to make the laws.

After 24 years of "must" legislation by rubber-stamp Congresses, it is encouraging to see Congress asserting its Constitutional powers again, though it did not do everything some of us wanted.

Neighbor, a lot of things can wait, as long as the Constitution stands!

Dr. Killian's Exact Duties Not Clear

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Killian has his hands full. But that doesn't mean he has his work cut out for him.

The 53-year-old Killian, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, now becomes another special assistant to President Eisenhower.

His job will be to help develop missiles and satellites. From the way Eisenhower in his Thursday night broadcast described Killian's assignment it sounds big and impressive.

But it also sounds pretty vague. And the important point for the nation is: Does the particular title given Killian—assistant to the President—carry enough weight to get the job done? How much authority will he have?

Industrial Union Department Is Potent AFL-CIO Force

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The second annual convention of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department in Washington serves as a reminder that the old Congress of Industrial Unions movement is still alive and kicking. Actually, it is stronger than ever before within the merged big labor organization.

The old CIO was having its troubles keeping afloat when it merged with American Federation of Labor.

But the new IUD has over 7,200,000 members in 71 national and international unions. Its net worth is put at $2,954,000 — an increase of nearly two million in the last year. It is the largest department in the 17-million-member AFL-CIO.

It includes the more than a million members of the International Association of Machinists under President Al Hayes. They were not in the old CIO setup.

IUD also took in 42 AFL unions with 28 of the old CIO unions to make a stronger force of industrial union workers, as distinguished from craft union workers in the building trades.

This new Industrial Union Department does not have the United Mine Workers under John L. Lewis, who disaffiliated after starting the CIO, and IUD has lost the big Plasterers, Distillery Workers and Sheet Metal Workers for nonpayment of dues.

But IUD's executive committee is studded with the names of former CIO big shots — Joe Beirne, Joe Curran, O. A. Knight. And its top officers are the same that CIO had — President Walter Reuther of the Auto Workers, Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey of the Electrical Workers.

Being against anything Walter Reuther is for has become a kind of cult, politically as well as economically. Thus Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), who is up for reelection this year, is basing his campaign largely on opposition to labor unions as they are now run. Walter Reuther is this Number One whipping boy.

On the other hand, Senators Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts — who wouldn't mind being Democratic candidates for either president or vice president in 1960 — openly bid for labor support. They were the two featured speakers on the IUD program here.

In the light of Sen. John L. McClellan's special investigating committee exposures of labor leaders' links with racketeers, there is some tendency to write the unions off as an effective force in politics.

There is a feeling that the next Congress will pass severe restrictions on union practices that will put all labor organizations back in what employers regard as "their proper place."

The performances of Dave Beck, Jimmy Hoffa and their ilk provide some justification for a belief that union leaders have this kind of a fall coming to them.

But any idea that the mass of organized labor will take this licking lying down is considered wrong. In the front rank of opposition will be Reuther and the IUD, which is today probably the most militant force in American labor.

Even Reuther's worst enemies concede his strong points. With the possible exceptions of John L. Lewis and the Rev. Billy Graham, Reuther is rated the most effective orator in the United States today. There is nobody in Congress, no national or state political leader who can express himself as well, unless it is House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas. This is on form alone.

As for content, there is no doubt about what Reuther stands for. He is second to none in determination to throw out the Hoffas and Becks and clean up the American labor movement.

He backs a legislative program aimed at eradicating the remaining areas of poverty and privation in the United States, raising minimum wages and pension levels, cutting the work week as automation increases labor's productivity, building better homes and schools in slum areas, eliminating discrimination in working places.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Flying saucers made many front pages a few years ago. Thousands of people scanned the heavens for mysterious objects. Theories about the discs were brought forth by the dozen. For a long time we gave little heed to the fact or fiction of the objects or of the theories. Was man's great interest only a fad which caught his fancy? Or did we lose interest because no disaster befell men as a result of the strange missiles?

Man seems to switch his attention from one interest to another. In jumping from idea to idea, or from theory to theory, let us not forget that there are some basic foundations for thinking and acting which cannot be treated as fads.

God and His teachings of love, faith and hope must be accepted as basic. They must be put into practice on a continuing basis by all men. We cannot switch our worship on and off as we do our interests in less eternal matters.

Designer of Red Sputnik Received Start in Britain

MOND LAB AT CAMBRIDGE: British built it for Kapitzka.

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

CAMBRIDGE, England (NEA)—The big hero at Cambridge University these days is Dr. Peter Kapitzka, the Russian who designed Sputnik and got it off the ground.

In the Common Rooms, where tweedy Cambridge dons gather for sherry, they talk of nothing but the Russian satellite and its designer. And as they talk, a note of pride creeps into the voice.

Why? Because Kapitzka, the wonder boy of Russian science, is a Cambridge grad. He spent 14 of the most fruitful years of his life at Cambridge's Cavendish Laboratory—years of which the Russians are now reaping the harvest.

What is more, he pursued his atomic research at Cambridge with all the facilities the British could place at his command—facilities which no amount of Russian rubles could buy at the time.

No wonder the tweedy boffins, as the British call their scientists, are puffed up with pride. Kapitzka is strictly a case of "Local Boffin Makes Good."

And a pin-up boy, too. I found photographs of Kapitzka everywhere at the Cavendish Laboratory, where the atom was first split.

"I hope you aren't going to write horrid things about Kapitzka," observed a white-smocked research assistant, button-holing me in a corridor. Another physicist warned me off a book about Kapitzka which has recently appeared in America.

"There isn't a word of truth in it," he assured me.

Yes, Cambridge is very much on the defensive where the Soviet scientist is concerned. It's very much a closed shop, "old school tie" deal.

among the men in charge of atomic energy.

Sir John Cockcroft, for example, Cockcroft, who heads atomic research for the entire United Kingdom, is an old crony of Kapitzka's, worked with him at the Cavendish Laboratory. Another is the British Minister of Education, Geoffrey Lloyd. He was Kapitzka's classmate at Trinity College, Cambridge.

As for Lord Halisham, chairman of the Conservative Party—he has already recorded it as a "melancholy reflection" that "We gave the Russians the satellite."

The Kapitzka story makes sorry reading in 1957. As a cautionary tale, it belongs alongside the sagas of Klaus Fuchs, Pontecorvo and Nunn May, those other scientists who placed their brains at the disposal of the Communist dictators.

Kapitzka's connection with Cambridge is well known. What is not well known (and what successive governments have tried to hush up) is that:

1. The British government subsidized Kapitzka during most of the 14 years he spent at Cambridge. Not only that, but it helped to finance a special laboratory for Kapitzka to use in atomic research, research which is now paying off so handsomely to the Russians.

2. After Kapitzka fled to Russia, Cambridge University sold his equipment to the Soviet government, at the latter's urgent insistence, for $90,000. The university also sent two lab assistants to Moscow to help Kapitzka install his equipment, and Sir John Cockcroft himself went along to lend a helping hand. Meanwhile the British government stood idly by during these negotiations.

Why use two when one will do?

You'll do better to protect your motor with this one all-weather oil than to change from heavy oil to light oil according to the season.

Users of Trop-Artic® All-Weather Motor Oil never have to worry about using different grades of oil at different seasons of the year. Trop-Artic is a light oil and heavy oil in one (grades 10W through 30). Furthermore, it lubricates and protects your motor far better than any of the old-fashioned "single grade" oils.

The reason is that Trop-Artic never gets too thick or too thin. In a cold engine it flows quickly for easy starting. In a hot engine it retains the "body" necessary to prevent wear. It reduces friction to save you gasoline. It keeps your engine clean. Compared to old-fashioned oils it can even double engine life. Texas A&M Keeps First Place Rank

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

The first six teams held their places in the Associated Press college football poll today as the nation's sports writers and broadcasters again gave Texas A&M top billing by a decisive margin.

But some real scraps developed among the leaders. Oklahoma and Auburn finished only eight points apart in the race for second place. Michigan State led Iowa by 112 points for fourth and Ohio State edged out Tennessee by 34 for the sixth spot.

With 184 experts casting ballots, the powerful Texas Aggies drew 60 first-place votes and a total of 1,577 points on the usual basis of 10 for each vote for first, 9 for second, etc. Oklahoma clung to second by the margin of 46 firsts and 1,411 points to Auburn's 42 and 1,403.

The figures for all three unbeaten teams were comparable to those of a week ago, when 197 votes were cast. The Aggies won their eighth straight game by an impressive 19-6 margin over Southern Methodist; Oklahoma's Sooners, troubled by a lagging offense most of the season, rolled to a 30-14 victory over upstart Houston.

Michigan State's 34-6 walloping of now-deflated Notre Dame barely increased the Spartans' fourth-place margin over Iowa, which rolled over Minnesota 44-20.

Tennessee was the only team in the first 10 a week ago which improved its position. The Volunteers, 21-6 winners over Georgia Tech, moved up from ninth to seventh. Navy and Army dropped from seventh and eighth to ninth and tenth as Mississippi jumped into the eighth spot. Ole Miss, a 14-12 winner over Louisiana State, is unbeaten in the Southeastern Conference.

North Carolina State, a 7-6 upset victim of William and Mary, lost its hold on 10th place and almost dropped out of sight in the ratings.

Archer Brothers Both Win 12th Straight Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—The fighting Archer brothers, Jimmy and Joey, each had their twelfth straight victory today and a date in Madison Square Garden for Dec. 20.

The part-time Bronx longshoremen also were ready to toss away their boxing gloves and devote full attention to the ring now that they were set for Garden shots.

Jimmy Archer, 22, an aggressive brawler, earned the promotion to the big time last night by raking Tony De Cola's stomach and ribs with a withering assault. He was awarded a split decision in 10 rounds although he was penalized the eighth round by low blows.

Jimmy twice staggered his taller Brooklyn rival, and completely dominated the second half of the stirring scrap. Referee Pete Della voted for De Cola, 5-4-1. But Judges Nick Gamboli and Charley Rosen each had Archer as the winner, 6-4. It was Jimmy's second win over De Cola and 12th in a row in 17 months. His record is 15-1. He weighed 148 to De Cola's 147.

Joey Archer, a pro only one year, has a perfect 12-0 record. The 19-year-old, 152½ pound kid brother decisively whipped Paul Griffin, 150, Brooklyn, in the six round semi-final of the St. Nicholas Arena card.

Frank Lane May Be New Indian Chief

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indians directors meet today to pick a new general manager, and the word is out that Frank Lane will quit as general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals to take the job.

Lane, who has a year left on his three-year contract with the Cards, wouldn't confirm or deny he will replace Hank Greenberg.

If he gets an offer, Lane said, he "would have to talk with Mr. Busch," meaning August Busch, Cardinals' owner.

Under a headline "Lane to Get Job as Tribe Office Boss," the Cleveland Plain Dealer said that Vice Presidents Nate Dolin and George Medinger talked with Lane in Chicago Sunday and Busch had given a green light for the negotiations.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which headlined "Frank Lane Going to Cleveland," said Lane is dissatisfied in St. Louis. Sports editor Robert Burnes said Lane feels he has suffered from too much interference from his superiors and a year ago was stripped of some authority, particularly in making trades.

No one seemed to anticipate any difficulty for Lane in getting free of his St. Louis contract.

Under Lane the Cards moved up from seventh to fourth and then last year to second, but he brought down wrath of a number of Red-bird fans by dealing away the popular Red Schoendienst, a sparkplug in Milwaukee's drive to a world championship.

A decline in attendance and the Tribe's descent to sixth place were behind the ouster of Greenberg, who had been Tribe GM since 1950.

No stranger to Ohioans, Lane was assistant to Larry McPhail when McPhail managed the Cincinnati Reds and later was president of the American Assn. with headquarters in Columbus. He also was well known as a Big Ten football official.

His work as general manager of the Chicago White Sox earned Lane a reputation for astute baseball dealing.

To Make Another Try At League Settlement

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick and other baseball officials had another try at figuring out a new alignment for the Pacific Coast League today.

Wilkinson Says an Upset Is Possible

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—The 1953 football season got off to a mediocre start for Oklahoma.

The opening game was at Norman, and a sellout crowd watched the Sooners get beaten for the second straight year by Notre Dame, this time 28-21.

In the next game, Pittsburgh and the Sooners tied 7-7.

Then Oklahoma, under Coach Bud Wilkinson, started a winning streak that blossomed into 9-2-1 that year, including a 7-0 victory over Maryland in the Orange Bowl.

In the four seasons since, Oklahoma has remained undefeated and now has 47 consecutive victories.

It's Notre Dame at Norman Saturday. This is the game the Fighting Irish probably want more than any other this season.

Last year, Oklahoma drubbed Notre Dame 40-0 but an upset over the Sooners could take a lot of stigma out of that loss and two defeats at the hands of Navy and Michigan State. At stake for Oklahoma besides the winning streak is a crack at its third straight national championship. The Sooners now are ranked No. 2.

Wilkinson today reflected on Notre Dame's chance of upsetting his Sooners, rated a three-touchdown favorite.

"Notre Dame is always capable of upsetting anyone," he pointed out. "They play the same kind of defense we do and have a good all-round offense."

"Fumbles hurt them in those last two losses but I think maybe they were looking forward to playing us. Maybe not conscious of everything we hear back from South Bend indicates all they've been talking about is beating Oklahoma."

Wilkinson hasn't made any predictions that his team will win or lose the game, although he normally is on the pessimistic side.

Holding the Main event position is a Tag Team match that will mark the return of Bob Orton to the local scene. Orton was seriously injured some months ago in a match against Thor Hagen and has been out of action for five months. Making his debut, as a tag partner to Bob Orton is Tonina, often referred to as El Torro, the Mexican Heavyweight champion. With these two rough and ready men both wanting to assure the success of their new tag combination, their opponents will have a fight on their hands. However, with two great athletes like Thor Hagen and Jim Dobbie on the opposing team, anything could happen. Since Hagen is one of the nation's outstanding young wrestlers and Jim Dobbie has an enviable reputation of his own they are without a doubt one of the most popular wrestling teams.

Enough to Make Founder Gasp

'Hands Off' Is One of Many New Basketball Rules Studied

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Basketball has adopted a new "hands off" policy. Hands off—that is—when the ball is anywhere above the rim of the basket.

The rules clinic held among Skyline Conference basketball coaches and officials in Salt Lake City over the weekend was called to discuss NCAA rules changes which will be in effect when the 1957-58 collegiate cage season opens next month.

Some of the new rules would surely make Dr. James A. Naismith, founder of the game, gasp in bewilderment... to say nothing about the effect it will have on the poor fans.

The rules makers forbid players on both teams to touch the ball while it is: 1. in the basket, 2. on the rim, 3. within the projected cylinder above the rim, 4. on its downward flight. You lose possession of the ball—and any points you might score if you're caught tending.

They approved stiff penalties to be assessed for stalling—on the defensive as well as the offensive teams.

The defensive stalling is a corker. A team which is behind or in defense when the score is tied must make a bona fide effort to chase the offense and force play.

The penalty for stalling is a technical foul—and loss of the ball if the team is on offense. The stalling rule applies to the offensive team only when the referee is convinced the squad is employing tactics to run the clock out or to suspend play late in the game set up a last-second shot.

The new offensive stalling rule says the team on offense, when warned by the referee, must keep the ball in action "within a 15-foot belt" from the basket. The 15-foot belt is defined as an imaginary line stretching across the floor at the tip of the free throw circle. The offensive team must make an effort to move the ball into scoring territory at 5-second intervals when it is beyond the 15-foot belt, or risk the chance of picking up a technical foul.

Faces Tough Man Tonight

HOUSTON (AP)—Lightweight was making plans for Brown's fight after his Dec. 4 encounter in Chicago with Joey Lopes.

Yesterday Viscousi answered a charge by Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) that the International Boxing Club has discriminated against lightweight Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., by its failure to recognize Lane as a leading contender for the championship.

The manager said Lane had been offered a match with Brown last July but had refused to fight in Houston. Viscousi said Lane's manager wanted the fight to be held in Muskegon but that he had refused to agree to this for business reasons.

Viscousi said that if Brown beats Lopes he would have a title defense in Houston after the first of the year with either Lane, Duilio Loi or Ralph Dupas.

Lane is ranked as the top challenger in the National Boxing Assn. ratings and as second leading contender behind Duilio Loi of Italy in the Ring magazine listing. Viscousi listed Dupas as one of the top three challengers.

They still haven't figured whether to penalize a team that bounces a ball off a sports writer's noggin while he is at the scorer's table. The last time it happened at UNM a "heads up" player recovered the ball and befuddled the referees by dribbling in for a crib shot. It counted, too!

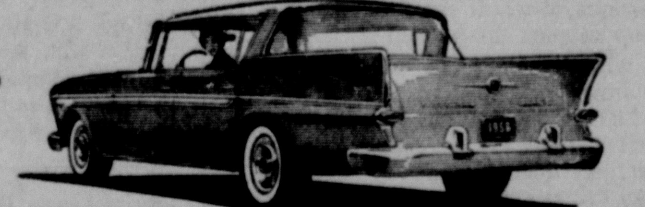

Another big rule change is the abolition of foul shots on double foul situations (when players on opposite sides commit fouls simultaneously). The new rule, instead, halts play and calls for a center jump.

The numbering of jerseys and the proper contrasting color figures also will be enforced. Jerseys may not be numbered with digits higher than "five" and the digits "1" and "2" cannot be used. That leaves only 35 legal numbers for players to wear—18 even and 17 odd ones.

Character Is Important Travel Item

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Tonight arm chair adventurers can travel to a wild and remote region of New Guinea with Lowell Thomas in the first of an interesting series of new television programs, High Adventure.

But supposing you were to travel in person to distant, dangerous and uncomfortable places. What do you need to make your adventurous trip as happy as such trips always sound in books?

In one word, "character," says Gil Ralston, an inveterate itinerant who produces the adventure series. Among other duties, Ralston makes all the arrangements for the traveling camera crews. He makes one trip in advance of the company and a second while it's working. Thus, by the time the series of seven shows is completed, he will have made at least two trips to New Guinea, the Arctic, Venezuela, Central Africa, Morocco, Nepal and the Australian Outback country.

"There are only three big problems—mosquitoes, humidity and heat," Ralston said. "You don't mind anything except those three things. At least you don't if you're what I'd call a traveler with character."

Lowell Thomas exemplifies that quality of character, Ralston said. "By character I mean a certain kind of mentality to whom hardship is literally something to joke about. It has nothing to do with a person's muscles. I've known big muscle men who were worse than useless under rough conditions. I know a little guy nearly 60 years old who spent his life in the city and became the driving force of an expedition in rugged country."

"You can spot the quality in a person the minute you meet him. He's a person who doesn't dramatize events, but accepts them and jokes about them."

Thomas, for example, never complains about anything, Ralston said. On the New Guinea trip Thomas and Ralston floated down a dangerous river in a dug-out for 24 hours. Thomas sunbathed and read during the day and slept at night with his head barely out of water.

At the end of the trip they split their only food—a can of tomatoes and a can of salmon. "This," Thomas told Ralston, "is the best breakfast I ever ate."

Third Navy Plane Forced Into Landing

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—A third Navy plane was stranded in the antarctic today as engine trouble continued to hamper flying. Seven persons aboard the plane were rescued from the Ross Ice Shelf and brought to McMurdo Sound.

The plane, a twin-engine DC3, was en route from Little America to the main American base here when one engine went out. Lt. Harvey G. Sved of Muskegon, Mich., landed it about 100 miles from McMurdo.

A second DC3 piloted by Lt. Cmdr. Ray E. Hall of Freelandville, Ind., set out from Little America, picked up the seven and landed them at McMurdo.

Lt. Lloyd G. Peterson of Jacksonville, Fla., a maintenance officer, and aviation mechanic Fred A. Long Jr. of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., who were with Hall, said the first DC3 would probably need an engine replacement. The plane was left anchored down against icy gales.

In addition to Sved, those rescued were Lt. Frank A. Dandrea, St. Paul, Minn., copilot; Lt. (j.g.) Earl R. Hillis, Chattanooga, Tenn., navigator; Aviation Machinist's Mate Daniel R. McRea, Philadelphia; Aviation Electrician Robert W. Hackett, Glendale, Calif.; and two International Geophysical Year scientists, A. J. Morency of Bossier City, La., and E. A. All of Apple Valley, Calif.

Another DC3 has been down since Nov. 8 at Liv, a three-man station of the Beardmore Glacier about halfway from here to the South Pole, needing an engine change. A Navy Neptune patrol bomber has been stranded at the pole station in the same fix since Nov. 26.

Says Red Satellites Are Sign of Need For Human Brotherhood

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says the Russian earth satellites are a sign that mankind has to choose "either extinction or the human brotherhood that has been the vision of visionaries since the beginning of time."

The twice-defeated Democratic candidate for president said last night that science has forced humanity "to a crossroad from which there is no turning back, no escape — and just one road that leads upward."

Stevenson told the National Conference of Christians and Jews that he was disturbed that the United States did not launch the first space satellite.

"Yet I know," he added, "as a citizen of the world and as a member of tomorrow, that the basic issue is no longer the supremacy of nations. It is the supremacy of man for good or for evil, for survival or suicide."

Stevenson's remarks were part of a dinner speech at the end of which he conferred the organization's Pioneer in Brotherhood Medal on Albert M. Greenfield, Philadelphia philanthropist and department store executive.

Ike Awaits An Answer From Adlai

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is waiting for Adlai Stevenson to make up his mind about an offer to become Democratic adviser on foreign policy—especially on revitalizing the Atlantic Alliance.

Sources who reported this said the offer was made through Secretary of State Dulles about Oct. 25. They said Stevenson has been considering it.

Both Stevenson and the White House declined comment on the report. But those who disclosed the offer said today they are hopeful Stevenson will accept. They said they are going ahead with plans for him to accompany Eisenhower and Dulles to the Dec. 16-17 meeting at Paris of the North Atlantic Treaty heads of state.

Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956, would be given a role similar to that filled by Dulles during the Truman administration. He would be foreign policy adviser from the opposition party.

In addition, just as Dulles was given prime responsibility for negotiating a Japanese peace treaty, Stevenson reportedly has been offered a top spot in America's efforts to breathe new life into NATO. Stevenson would be the U. S. No. 3 man, outranked only by Eisenhower and Dulles at the conference.

Stevenson's primary task would be to help launch a U. S.-British program for greater NATO cooperation and sharing of responsibility to cope with Russia's new scientific-technical — propaganda — advances.

The Eisenhower request to Stevenson was reported to have gone out immediately after the Oct. 23-25 Washington visit of British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan.

Dulles was reported to have sent two letters to Stevenson on behalf of "the President and myself."

Stevenson's response to the first letter was understood to have been cautious. He was said to have expressed doubt about undertaking an all-out advisory job. In the meantime, it was thought he consulted top Democratic leaders to get their view on whether his acceptance might be helpful or harmful to the Democratic party.

Dulles was reported to have toned down the proffered job in his second letter.

Custom Began

The custom of flipping a coin dates from the time of Julius Caesar. His head was engraved on one side of all Roman coins. A coin was tossed to decide important questions and, if the head turned up, the person or decision represented by the head was the winner.

Big Names Pay Money For Insults

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The biggest names in Hollywood are paying night club prices every night to get insulted—and loving every minute of it.

Sensation of the local night club beat is Don Rickles, who headlines the show at the new States brothers night club. The States themselves once were showbusiness headliners but bought out a small club here and brought Rickles out from Miami and New York.

The club has been packed every night since. Most of the stars have come back five and six times as the show and the insults change every night with the crowd.

Even such top columnists as Louella Parsons and Hedda Hopper get blasted—and they write up Rickles the next day.

To Hedda, Rickles said: "Get this idiot in the cheap hat" and to Louella: "I read your column, it's weak."

Frank Sinatra doubled up when Rickles said: "I saw you in 'The Pride and the Passion,' Frank—the cannon was great."

When Groucho Marx heckled him, Rickles shot back: "How would you like a harpoon right in your nostril? Let's face it, Groucho, your brothers carried you for years and when you lose that duck on your show, you're off the air."

And Dean Martin got this: "You're not relaxed on stage, Dean, you're boozed up."

Of Jerry Lewis: "A comic you may be. A singer? Forget it."

Fair Weather Prevails Over Most of Nation; Wet in Some Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were wet spots in some Western and Southern areas but generally fair weather prevailed today across most parts of the country.

Cool weather continued in the Northeast, with some of the cool air again dipping into Southeast areas. Some warming was in prospect during the day in most of the Atlantic Coast region.

Rain fell in the north Pacific Coast region and southward into California. Scattered showers or snow flurries were reported in the northern Plateau region and in parts of the northern and central Rockies. Heaviest rain fell on the Oregon coast, with more than 1 1/4 inches at Astoria.

Another major wet belt was in Texas and southwestern Louisiana, with heaviest rain in southern Texas. Corpus Christi was drenched with nearly 3 inches of rain in 24 hours.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE ON MARRIAGE BY WILSON SCRUGGS

GABE, I COULD GIVE YOU THAT OLD LINE ABOUT MARRIAGE BEING NOTHING MORE THAN A SCIP-OR-OP BETWEEN NAGARA FALLS AND RENJO.

BUT IT ISN'T TRUE, MARRIAGE CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—AND THERE'S A TITLE FOR YOU SO IF YOU LOVE MARTHA, MARRY HER. IT'S THAT SIMPLE.

MEANWHILE... BUT, MARTHA, SUPPOSE GABE SAYS HE WILL GIVE UP HIS WRITING FOR YOU? THEN I'LL MARRY HIM! I MEAN IT!

The 58 FORD is here now...
there's nothing newer in the world

There's bold, new styling—new Interceptor V-8 Power—new Cruise-O-Matic Drive—new Ford-Aire Suspension! The 58 Ford is the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere!

You could search the world over and never find a car to match this 58 Ford's new beauty... new power... new ride... all at the low Ford price. We know! We tried it!

In Paris... the most style-conscious fashion critics in the world had a deep, low bow for Ford's latest style creation. In the mighty Himalayas, Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine with Precision Fuel Induction won the day!

Then there's nothing newer than the true air ride of Ford-Aire Suspension. It's like riding on a cloud! But, you don't have to go to foreign soil to drive this newest Ford. We'll gladly save you the trip. Come in today!

From London to Bangkok... the whole world loved it!

The 58 Ford stopped traffic in Trafalgar Square when it passed through on its round-the-world trip. And that was typical of the excitement this Ford caused in Paris... Rome... Athens... Istanbul... Calcutta... and Bangkok. For this Ford was proved around the world in the toughest "shakedown" cruise in history.

There's nothing newer in the world of style!
The whole world seems smaller with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine!

You'll ride in a new world of fashion with Ford's deep-sculptured styling. From new Power-Flow hood to Safety-Twin taillights, Ford's world-ahead styling is a standard! There's a new Shipstream roof... a new Sculptured rear deck that's out of this world.

You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Induction. Gives you up to 300 hp. Smoother power... more power... from less gas! The secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a new carburetor, fuel feeding, and combustion system.

You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. New D1 position, used for normal driving, lets you move smoothly—with a touch of your toe—from solid-feeling take-offs right up to highway cruising speeds.

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. This is the way you've dreamed of driving—floating on air! Four air pillows literally soak up any sign of a bump. Car relevels every time someone gets in or luggage is loaded.

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering gear are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering!

Your night driving is safer with Ford's Safety-Twin Headlights. You get safety you simply can't get with single lights... special light for high beam... special light for low. It's the biggest advance since the sealed-beam! It's high style, too.

Smooth as they come... smart as they go. The Fairlane 500 takes the 58 styling cake, going away (arriving, too!)

COME IN... SEE THE CAR THAT WAS PROVED AND APPROVED AROUND THE WORLD!

To Light First Entire Town By Atom Power

MOORPARK, Calif. (AP) — This town of 1,500 will be lighted for five minutes tonight by energy from an atomic reactor.

Southern California Edison Co., over whose lines the electric power will flow, says this will be the first time a community has been lighted entirely by power from a commercial reactor.

The reactor is operated by Atomics International at Santa Susana. Heat from nuclear fission in the reactor turns water to steam and the steam powers Edison generators at the site.

Electric energy from the reactor has been fed into the Edison system intermittently since July 12.

Court Rules Second Wife Is Not Widow

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania's Supreme Court has ruled that the second wife of a man married five times cannot qualify as his widow.

An ex-wife can't be a widow, the court held.

Thus wife No. 5 of H.S.A. Stewart Jr. of Pittsburgh is entitled to a share of his $116,000 trust fund, the court said, not wife No. 2.

Wife No. 2 — Cecilia Stewart — had appealed to the court saying she was Stewart's wife when his father set up the trust fund for him.

Refutes Speculation About Color on Moon

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — How much red dye would the Russians have to rocket to the moon to produce an effect visible from earth?

Physicist Robert Wild of the University of California took a quick look at a slide rule and replied: six million cubic feet.

Wild made his estimate after public inquiries arose following a recent reddish tinge on the moon.

Wild said haze—not Soviet dye—caused the tinge.

Smorgasbord Is Successful Event For La Monte PTA

"Let's have a smorgasbord" suggested someone as members of the LaMonte PTA were trying to think up some way to make money for things the organization wanted to do.

It sounded like a very good idea, but it was something they went into blindly. None of them had ever been to a smorgasbord. But they did have an idea of what it would be like. It was a place where there was food of a great variety so they began to plan.

The women of the group were rather conservative on the idea, but not Russell McCarroll, who is on the finance committee. A smorgasbord isn't something little — it is something big, and he talked them out of having it in a smaller building where it was being planned and prepared for it in the lunch room and the gymnasium, which was a little awkward because there were a few steps linking the two rooms, but it did work out fine.

Some of the others thought one turkey, which was donated, and one ham would be enough — with everybody donating other things. But McCarroll argued they would need plenty of meat, at least three turkeys, chickens, roast and ham and if there was meat left over it might be sold or if necessary put in the locker. He operates the locker in LaMonte.

So they went all out. They asked for donations from the whole district and got them — all kinds of things were donated even to coffee.

Well, the smorgasbord was to be held Wednesday night, Nov. 6, and had been put in The Sedalia Democrat-Capital, food was prepared, tables set up and people came — just like McCarroll had expected. There were about 400 plates served that night.

The long smorgasbord tables had all kinds of food. The group tending the food was careful just to put one turkey on at a time, but they had three of them, 20 pounds each after they were dressed. There was a 20 pound beef roast cooked all in one; two huge hams, 15 chickens, both fried and baked. Then there were mashed potatoes, gravy, pan fried potatoes, sweet potatoes, green beans, navy beans and ham hock, all kinds of relishes, stuffed celery, pickles, a variety of bread, white and brown, rye and Vienna, coffee and a big variety of pies.

"Who made this pie?" some man asked.

Nobody seemed to know. "I wish I knew" commented the man. "I'd marry her just for her pies."

Of course, some of the meat had to be paid for out of the proceeds but the LaMonte PTA expects to come out with around $300. They charged a dollar a plate for adults and fifty cents for children.

Mrs. Paul Steinkuhler is president of the PTA. Mrs. Frank Breon is vice-president. Mrs. Doris Hayden, secretary and Mrs. Charles Sparks, treasurer. These officers really worked for the success of their first smorgasbord, as did the rest of the PTA membership, and they were pleased with the results.

McCarroll sure knew how to plan for a smorgasbord — there was nothing left over and they even had to go out and buy a couple cans of ham. The PTA members agree — a smorgasbord is something big.

Man Goes to Trial For Death of Wife

DENVER (AP) — Ernest J. Mills, 34, was called to trial in district court today on a charge he killed his wife, Mary, 26.

The courtroom is the same in which he and his wife were married in Jan. 1956. The woman's body, her throat slashed, was found stuffed in the refrigerator at the Mills' apartment last May 22.

Mills was arrested a day later at his mother's home in Gideon, Mo. He has denied the slaying.

He told a reporter he met his wife through a lonely hearts club he joined for $1. The club sent him a list of 100 girls and he chose Mary Martinez because she was short. Mills is short, too—5 feet 4 inches.

Gregory A. Mueller, deputy district attorney, said he would ask the death penalty.

Dist. Judge Robert H. McWilliams is the trial judge. He is not the judge who married Mills and Mary. That was Albert T. Frantz, now a Colorado Supreme Court justice.

Suspicion Is Right

WARRINGTON, England (AP) — William Hornby had a feeling there was something wrong with his car, suspected the clutch, and stopped to make a check.

Up walked a policeman carrying the left front wheel. "This," said the copper, "fell off about 150 feet back."

Hornby was fined 5 pounds ($14) for driving a car not in road-worthy condition.

Conflict Of Interest
DES MOINES (AP) — Municipal Judge Howard Brooks didn't hesitate when Ray Hanrahan asked to be excused from the municipal court petit jury panel.

Hanrahan is county attorney. Brooks said he didn't believe any attorney would let Hanrahan pass as a juror anyway.

Marriage No School Ban

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP) — The state attorney general's office says public school students in New Mexico cannot be expelled because they marry. The opinion, by Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert Pyatt, said exclusion of married students from public schools could not be read into New Mexico's constitutional provisions on schooling. Educators have said more and more high school students are marrying while still in school.

Order An Inquest In Death of Union Official and Wife

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — An inquest has been ordered in the deaths of a Teamsters Union official and his wife whose bodies were found last night in a bathroom of their suburban home.

A pathologist speculated Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Barrett may have asphyxiated from a faulty heating system. Their dog and canary also died.

The couple apparently had been dead for a week, Dr. Fred Collier said. Autopsies were performed last night. Coroner Ralph Thieme ordered the inquest.

Barrett, 53, had taken a leave of absence about three months ago from his job as representative

First look at a smart performer.

TODAY we're proudly displaying the 1958 GMC Money-Maker. And we think you'll find it the handsomest hustler you ever handled.

panel as on the big, $10,000 GMC heavy-duties. A radiator mounted on a bulkhead integral with the frame. A steering column braced like a mast.

These and more tell the inside story of GMC stamina. Come in and see for yourself. Why not do it today?
